This young woman is missing.

She is one of 219 Nigerian school girls who remain separated from their families after they were abducted by Boko Haram on 14 April 2014.

I am a member and/or friend of Girls' Brigade. Girls' Brigade cares for girls because God cares for girls. I believe in #hopeforgirls.

Every child deserves to be able to go to school safely.
Every person deserves to be able to exercise their faith without fear of persecution.

As a citizen, I am asking my government to commit to doing all that it can by using its influence in the international arena to ensure that these young women are returned safely to their families.

I care about _____
I've not forgotten her name.
Have you?
